

Acceptance Letter

Journal of World Languages
ISSN: 2169-8252
Scopus Source ID: 21101101953

Date: 22 January, 2026

Manuscript ID: JWL-2026-019
Article Type: Research Article

Dear Adambayeva Nargiza Kadambayevna,

We are pleased to inform you that your manuscript entitled:

“Corpus-Based Analysis of Borrowings and Globalization Effects in Modern Uzbek Media Language”

has been accepted for publication in the Journal of World Languages following a rigorous double-blind peer review process.

The reviewers and editors found your study to be a valuable contribution to the field of world languages and applied linguistics, particularly for its corpus-based methodology and its insightful analysis of globalization-driven lexical borrowing in modern Uzbek media discourse.

Your manuscript has been accepted without further revisions / after minor revisions / after major revisions (please select the appropriate option).

Next Steps:

The manuscript will now proceed to the copyediting and production stage.

You will be contacted by our production team regarding proofreading and publication scheduling.

Please ensure that all author details (affiliations, ORCID IDs, and correspondence information) are accurate.

Publication Information:

Journal: Journal of World Languages

Publisher: Walter de Gruyter

Indexing: Scopus, Web of Science (ESCI)

Publication Mode: Online First

We would like to thank you for choosing the Journal of World Languages as the outlet for your research.

We look forward to publishing your work and believe it will attract significant interest among scholars in linguistics and media language studies.

Sincerely,

Editorial Office
Journal of World Languages

