Dear Dr. Shakhzoda D. Egamberdieva and Dr. Madina Kh. Boboyeva,

We are pleased to inform you that your manuscript entitled:

“Metaphorised Creolised Advertising Texts in Multilingual Contexts: A Psycholinguistic and Corpus-Based Analysis of English, Russian and Uzbek Discourse” has been accepted for publication in Training, Language and Culture following a rigorous double-blind peer review process.

The reviewers and editors found your study to be a substantial contribution to the fields of discourse studies, cognitive linguistics, psycholinguistics, and multilingual corpus research. In particular, the manuscript was highly evaluated for its integrative methodological design, empirical corpus-based evidence, and theoretically grounded analysis of metaphorised creolised advertising texts across English, Russian, and Uzbek media environments.

Your manuscript has been accepted after minor revisions. All reviewer comments have been satisfactorily addressed.
